

HAVE A “MEETING PLACE”

After you escape from your house, everyone in the family needs to know everyone got out and is safe. The only way to do that is to have a meeting place. If you have a fire drill at school, your teacher always takes you to the same place. That is your school “Meeting Place.” You need to have one at home too.

Your “Meeting Place” at home could be a big tree, the end of the driveway, the mailbox, the neighbors house or anyplace that is safe. Always make sure that everyone is safe and be then call the fire department.
